

FFTA

Foster Family-based Treatment Association

The Foster Family-based Treatment Association Endorses Foster Parent College

The Foster Family-based Treatment Association has chosen to exclusively endorse Foster Parent College for online resource parent training.

Foster Parent College (FPC) strengthens agency efforts to support and retain foster parents by providing quick and easy access - via online training - to expert help on specific parenting and behavioral challenges.

Each online training course is interactive and progressive to engage parents and enhance learning. The self-driven training is available at the parents' convenience, wherever internet access is available. The current lineup includes 27 titles, among them "Culturally Competent Parenting," "Self-Harm," "Sexualized Behavior," "R.A.D.," "Child Safety and Supervision," "Eating Disorders" and "Fire Setting."

Foster Parent College is the only online resource parent training site to be rated by the California Evidence-Based Clearinghouse for Child Welfare, is also endorsed by the Canadian Foster Family Association, and is approved by CASA and the National Adoption Center.

As part of this new agreement, FFTA member agencies are eligible to receive a 10% discount on the purchase of FPC training units. To receive the discount members may call FPC at (800) 777-6636 and ask to set up an FFTA member agency account. The discount is not available to self-registered individual users; individual users who provide treatment foster care should contact their agency about training with FPC.

Foster Parent College is a division of Northwest Media, Inc. of Eugene, OR. Northwest Media also produces Vstreet.com, a comprehensive life skills website for youth in transition, and SocialLearning.com, an online store with over 1,300 products for the social services field.

For more information about FPC, visit www.fosterparentcollege.com or call (800) 777-6636.